How shocked I was to see the passing of Mr. Scott so soon after the recent passing of his wife, but how sweet to know that he has joined his precious wife. However I know it must be difficult to say good-bye here on earth to both so close together. My prayers are with you all. May all your memories fill the voids in your hearts. I know I have special memories of both your mother and dad from when I played at your house when we were kids. They both always made me feel so welcome. I look forward to seeing them again in heaven one day.
