“As a child, Aunt Marcelle would invite me to spend the weekend with her and Angie. It was absolutely a highlight in my life and very fond memories. The trips to Tweetsie Railroad listening to “Bobby Magee” will forever be in my heart. Rest in peace Aunt Marcelle

“Angela Moore Mason lit a candle in memory of Marcelle R. Moore

Ms. Marcey was a very independent and strong lady. It seems that sometimes she didn't realize just how strong she was. Most of us waste a lot of time doubting ourselves. Ms. Marcey's memory will always give me strength. I hope it does the same for everyone who knew her. I know that would make her proud.

“Where to start? So many great memories, so many times we would both get each other laughing to the point we were crying and couldn't even make any audible noise except a tiny squeak.

Mama was a simple woman of few words, and was raised very poor, and always moving from place to place.

She was so wise, an extremely hard worker and without a doubt, the toughest person I've ever known.

She was extremely knowledgeable on the subjects of gardening and cooking, with many of you recalling her famous sweet potato pies that she would give as gifts at holiday time. Those pies were very sought after! The majority of my memories revolve around her in the kitchen, canning, freezing, cooking and baking.

Life gave her a very hard road to walk, with major challenges around every turn, but she never panicked, and she always prevailed. She raised me from age 11 when my father died, pretty much alone, and she made sure that I always lacked nothing. It wasn't until I became a mother that I understood exactly how much Mama sacrificed for me.

Even cancer and stage 4 kidney disease couldn't stop her. She'd continue to rally, time and time again, even when her own doctors and medical staff thought she couldn't.

She loved her family and friends so much and getting a call or visit from one of us would make her entire day. She loved to reminisce, tell stories about growing up, and share her photo albums.

Mama, I love you, and I will miss you. Give Daddy a big hug and kiss for me. And I'll see you later. ❤️

“Mama 2 was such a huge part of my life as a child and teenager. I am so sorry for your loss, Angie, and for your Uncle Allen’s loss, as well. She always treated me like I was one of her own.
